THE CUBS COACHING STAFF

BOBBY ADAMS 51

A veteran of 14 major league seasons, Bobby played for the Cubs in 1957, 1958, and the early part of 1959. . . . After finishing the '59 season at Seattle, he was secretary of the Association of Professional Baseball Players of America until February, 1961, when he joined the Cubs coaching staff. . . . Bobby spent most of his big-league career with Cincinnati and was with the White Sox and Baltimore before joining the Cubs. . . . A versatile infielder, he played third, second, and first with the Cubs, also saw service at shortstop during his career.

JAMES (RIP) COLLINS 55

Rip served with the Cubs in 1961 for the first time since 1938 when he helped the club win the National League pennant as a player. . . . He had been out of baseball for 10 years, 9 of which he spent with Wilson Sporting Goods Co. in the baseball division. . . . Rip was a member of the Cardinals' famous "Gashouse Gang" from 1931 through '36. . . . Always a standout at first base with the glove, he enjoyed his finest season in 1934, when he hit .333, led the League in slugging percentage at .615, fielded .991. . . . Has managed 9 years in the lower classifications —five at Albany, two at San Diego, and two at Hartford.

CHARLIE GRIMM 50

Charlie Grimm's long record of valuable service with the Cubs began in 1924 when a trade with Pittsburgh brought him to Chicago for 12 great seasons as player and player-manager. . . . As a first baseman he set fielding records that establish him as one of the best of all time. . . . And he starred at the plate, too, with a .290 average over 20 big-league seasons. . . . Charlie led the Cubs to pennants in 1932 and 1935, then returned to lead the club to another flag in 1945. . . . Later he managed the Braves several seasons, then rejoined the Cubs as vice-president in 1956, to help develop young players in the Cubs system. . . . He managed the Cubs again early in the 1960 season.

VEDIE HIMSL 54

Vedie was appointed to the Cubs coaching staff in May, 1960, to specialize in working with pitchers. . . . In his 11 years with the Cubs organization he has served as scout, pitching instructor circulating among associated clubs, and co-ordinator of spring training activities. . . . Vedie's playing career included 5 years as a pitcher at St. Paul, followed by a 3-year hitch in the Navy. . . . Returned to St. Paul as pitcher and coach in 1946. . . . From 1947 thru '51 he was with the Cardinals organization as business manager, field manager, and scout.

GOLDIE HOLT 57

The Cubs obtained Goldie Holt's services in January, 1961, on the basis of his success in helping develop several outstanding young pitchers in the Los Angeles Dodgers organization. . . . He played infield and outfield in league classifications up through AAA, including service in 1937 with the Los Angeles Angels, then associated with the Cubs, and with Kansas City and Newark in the Yankee organization. . . . He has managed 14 years, most recently at Spokane in 1958, and was a coach with Pittsburgh in 1948-50. . . . Served as roving pitching coach in the Dodgers' system in 1959-60.

ROBERT (BOB) KENNEDY 61

Bob Kennedy, Chicago born and raised, joined the Cubs coaching staff Nov. 14, 1962, after serving as field manager and general manager at Salt Lake City in the 1962 season. . . . The Cubs shared a working agreement with Cleveland, and Bob led the team to a tie for 2nd place in the PCL. . . . He was head coach of the Cubs team in the Arizona Instructional League last fall. . . . A rifle-armed third baseman and outfielder, Bob signed with the White Sox system in 1937, came up to the Sox in '39. . . . Also played at Cleveland, Baltimore, Detroit, and Brooklyn. . . . His big league career covered 17 seasons, with two time-outs for combat duty in World War II and the Korean crisis, attaining the rank of captain. . . . After retiring as a player he served as scout, assistant farm director, and farm director with the Cleveland organization.

LOU KLEIN 60

Lou had been managing at Houston in the American Association before joining the Cubs coaching staff on July 18, 1961. . . . Earlier in 1961 he piloted the Carlsbad, N. M., club in the Cubs system. . . . Was a Cub coach early in the 1960 season, then became a special assignment scout. . . . Previously he had successfully managed 4 clubs in the Cubs system—Lafayette, Des Moines, Memphis, Ft. Worth. . . . Led Ft. Worth to the Texas League pennant in 1958. . . . A top-notch infielder, he entered the majors with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1943, played 3 years in the Mexican League, 1946-48, then returned to the Cardinals.

FRED MARTIN 58

After managing the Cubs' associated club at St. Cloud, Minn., in 1960, Fred was appointed to the Cub coaching staff on March 22, 1961, while assisting in instructional work at Mesa. . . . Fred's active career as a pitcher spanned a period of 24 years. . . . He started out in the St. Louis Cardinals system in 1935. . . . At 44 he was a relief pitcher with Houston in 1959. . . . After 4 years in the Army in World War II, he joined the Cardinals in 1946. . . .Went to the Mexican League that same

JOHN (BUCK) O'NEIL 53

Buck O'Neil was appointed to the Cubs coaching staff on May 29 of the 1962 season. . . . Buck joined the Cub organization in 1956 as a scout. . . . Talented as an instructor, he has been helpful in working with young players on the Cubs' associated clubs in the lower classifications. . . . Has been active in instructional work at the spring training camp at Mesa the past several years. . . . A star first baseman, he spent most of his playing career with the Kansas City Monarchs. . . . He also served as manager of the Monarchs, and had Ernie Banks as a player before Ernie signed with the Cubs.

ELVIN TAPPE 52

El Tappe first took up coaching duties with the Cubs in mid-season of 1958, then returned as an active player in 1960 and caught in 51 games. . . . Resumed as a coach in 1961 and for the first 6 weeks in 1962, then went behind the plate again to bolster the catching staff while Dick Bertell was unavailable on Army duty, and did an outstanding job, playing in 26 games. . . . Broke into pro ball at Henderson, Texas, in 1947. . . . Was with the Yankees system at Beaumont when he came into the Cubs organization via draft by the Los Angeles Angels (PCL). . . . Throughout his playing career with the Cubs he was noted for his skill in handling pitchers as well as his all-around defensive ability.

VERLON (RUBE) WALKER 56

Verlon (Rube) Walker was promoted to the coaching staff in January, 1961, after 4 successful seasons of handling managerial assignments with Cubs' associated clubs. . . . At Paris, Ill., in 1957-59 and at Carlsbad, N. M., in 1960 he made a name for himself for his skill in instructing and developing young players. . . . He has been in the Cubs system since 1948, when he began his professional career as a catcher with Lumberton, N.C., of the Tobacco State League. . . . Has caught on 7 different clubs in the Cubs organization since that time.

MELVIN (MEL) WRIGHT 59

After serving most of last season working with Bob Kennedy as pitching coach of the Salt Lake City club, Mel became a member of the Cubs coaching staff on Aug. 23, 1962. . . . He started out in pro ball in the Yankees system at McAlester in the Sooner State League in 1950. . . . Pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1954 and '55. . . . The Cubs purchased his contract from Dallas-Ft. Worth in August of the 1960 season, and he was with the Cubs and Houston (Am. Assn.) in 1961. . . . After graduation from DeWitt, Ark., High in 1947, he attended Ouachita Baptist College.

THE 1963 CUBS TEAM

ERNEST (ERNIE) BANKS 14

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Jan. 31, 1931. Height 6:01. Weight 180. Married, 3 children. Home: Chicago.

In his first full season as a first baseman, after making the shift from shortstop in 1961, Ernie starred afield and led the Cubs in home runs for the 8th year in a row.... Drove in more than 100 runs for the 6th time in his career.... Set club records for home runs by a first baseman (37) and RBI's by a first baseman (103).... Raising his career home run total to 335, Ernie moved into the National League's all-time top ten.... He now stands 8th in the list, having passed Rogers Hornsby, Chuck Klein, and Johnny Mize.... Ranks first on the Cubs all-time list in homers, 8th in hits (1,519), 5th in total bases (2,884), 3rd in extra base hits (630).... Set a new National League precedent in 1958-59 by winning the Most Valuable Player award two years in a row.... As a shortstop, Ernie established two all-time major league fielding records in 1959 —for best fielding percentage (.285) and for fewest errors (12).... Played in both 1962 All Star games.... Ernie came to the Cubs on Sept. 14, 1953, after purchase of his contract from the Kansas City Monarchs.

STEPHEN (STEVE) BOROS 17

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Sept. 3, 1936. Height 6:00. Weight 185. Single. Home: Detroit, Michigan.

The Cubs acquired this highly regarded infielder from Detroit on Nov. 28, 1962, in exchange for Bob Anderson. . . . Signed out of the University of Michigan in 1957, Steve was one of the Tigers' top prospects. . . . In his rookie season at Detroit in 1961 he was a sensation until a broken collar bone kept him in the hospital 6 weeks. . . . Though his batting average dropped in 1962, Steve showed improved power by blasting 16 homers . . . In 1960 at Denver he was named the American Assn. Most Valuable Player, hitting .317 with 30 home runs. . . . Has experience at all four infield positions, and in the outfield.

OUTFIELDER. Bats Left. Throws Left. Born June 18, 1939. Height 5:11. Weight 170. Married, one daughter. Home: Chicago, Illinois.

Noted for his speed on the bases and for his league-leading .361 batting average at St. Cloud in his first year in pro ball in 1961, Lou gave notice of his power hitting potential in his first major league season last year. . . . On June 17, 1962, he blasted a historic home run, becoming the first left-hand hitter ever to hit a ball into the right section of the centerfield bleachers in the Polo Grounds. . . . Brock hit a respectable .263 in his rookie year as a big leaguer and swiped 16 bases. . . . Led the Northern League in 1961 in hits (181), doubles (33), and runs (117), as well as batting average, and was named the League's Rookie of the Year. . . . Starred in the Arizona Instructional League in the fall of '61 and again in '62. . . . Attended Southern University and made the All NAIA baseball team in '58 and '59.

ROBERT (BOB) BUHL 31

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born Aug. 12, 1928. Height 6:02. Weight 190. Married, 4 children. Home: Saginaw, Mich.

Though Bob didn't join the Cubs until April 30 last season, after being acquired from the Milwaukee Braves in exchange for Jack Curtis, he led the Cubs staff in wins (12), innings pitched (212), and complete games (8). . . . In his first appearance in a Cubs uniform two days after joining the club, Bob registered a 3-1 win over the Dodgers. . . . With 121 wins in 10 big league seasons, he's one of 7 active National League pitchers to pass the 100 mark in victories. . . . Defeated his old teammates, the Braves 4 times in 1962. . . . His 18 wins in 1957 were a major factor in Milwaukee's first pennant. . . . A native of Saginaw, Mich., Bob made his pro debut at Madisonville, Ky., in 1947, spent 2 years in military service (1951-52). . . . Won 13 games in his major league rookie season with the Braves in 1953.

GLEN HOBBIE 40

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born April 24, 1936. Height 6:03. Weight 195. Married, 2 children. Home: Witt, Illinois.

Glen had a run of tough luck last year in attempting to come back after a below-par 1961 season in which he was handicapped by a strained back. . . . In his first 3 losses in 1962, the Cubs didn't score a run, and in 5 others he was beaten by one run. . . . Lost 9 of his first 10 decisions, then came back in the second half of the season with a 4-5 record. . . . Hobbie led the Cubs pitching staff in wins in 1958, '59, and '60. . . . In 1960, the fast-balling right-hander led Cubs hurlers in complete games (16), innings pitched (259), and shutouts (4). . . . The Cubs bought Glen's contract for a large cash payment from the Memphis, Tenn., club late in the 1957 season.

LYNDALL (LINDY) McDANIEL 43

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born Dec. 13, 1935. Height 6:03. Weight 190. Married, 2 children. Home: Hollis, Oklahoma.

The Cubs acquired Lindy McDaniel in the same deal that brought Larry Jackson and Jim Schaffer from the Cardinals for Altman, Cardwell, and Thacker. . . . He's one of the top relief pitchers in baseball. . . . Had his best year in 1960, when he won 12 and lost 4 with the amazing total of 27 "saves," earning the Sporting News honors as "Fireman of the Year." . . . Set two Cardinal club records that season by appearing in 65 games and finishing 47. . . . In 1961, he had a fine 10-6 won-and-lost record. . . . Though credited with only 3 wins in 1962, he saved a total of 13 games. . . . Signed a bonus contract with the Cards in '55, and except for a brief spell at Omaha, has spent his entire pro career as a major leaguer. . . . Attended Oklahoma University, Abilene Christian College, and Florida Christian.

WRIGLEY FIELD — HOME OF THE CUBS

Conveniently located in a residential section on Chicago's North Side, the home park of the Chicago Cubs has long been famous as beautiful Wrigley Field.

The park covers 7.7 acres and the stands provide 36,755 comfortable seats for baseball fans. The street boundaries of the park are Clark, Addison, Sheffield, and Waveland.

Continuous Program of Improvement

In keeping with its long-time policy of presenting baseball games in attractive surroundings, the Chicago National League Ball Club has been carrying forward a million dollar park improvement program in the last five years.

This has included the installation of new concrete slab facing on the exterior walls, modernized entrances and new ticket windows, renewal of the steel structure of the stands, and extensive painting to provide a new color scheme for the exterior of the park. Refinishing of the box seats has been the major project in getting ready for the 1963 season.

History and Development of the Park

The Cubs moved to the North Side location from the old West Side park in 1916. The site had been the playing field of the Chicago Whales in the short-lived Federal League. The grandstand was enlarged in 1922-23, and double-decked in 1926-27. In 1938 the club put in wider seats in the boxes and grandstand. This provided greater comfort for the fans, reducing the seating capacity by several thousand.

To enhance the park-like atmosphere, the outfield walls are covered with ivy vines instead of advertising signs. And there's no advertising on the big, informative scoreboard.

For some years, the ball park was named Cubs Park. In 1926 it was renamed Wrigley Field, after the late William Wrigley Jr., who headed the club from 1919 until he passed away in January of 1932. The Cubs won two pennants under his leadership, and four more under Phil Wrigley, present-day owner and president of the club.

How to get tickets

Reserved box seat tickets for all games through the end of the season are available by mail. Just send your order to Ticket Manager, Wrigley Field, Chicago 13, Ill. 22,500 grandstand and bleacher tickets go on sale the morning of every game.

You can also buy box seat tickets in advance at the Wrigley Field ticket office at Addison and Sheffield and at Bond's downtown store, 234 S. State St., near Jackson.

How to get to the park

Located at Clark and Addison Sts., 3600 North, 1000 West. Clark St. buses (No. 22) and Addison (No. 152) buses take you to main gates. North Side "L" trains (Addison St. Station) take you to ¼ block from ball park.

The flags of Wrigley Field

At every game Old Glory flies from the centerfield masthead, highest point in the park. The flags of the 10 National League cities and 8 states are flown at the Clark St. entrance.

Before and during each game 10 pennants, one for each club in the National League, fly from the yardarms in the order of the League standings on the morning of the game—the first place team's pennant on top at the left, the 10th place team's pennant on the bottom at the right.

The Chicago Cubs flag—red and white on a blue background —displays 16 red stars representing the Club's 16 National League Championship. The two blue stars represent the Club's two World Championships.

THE CUBS COACHING PROGRAM FOR DEVELOPMENT OF YOUNG PLAYERS

The principal aim of the Cubs coaching system is to provide instruction of major league caliber to young players on their way up through the organization. . . . Most of the coaches work with the players on the Cubs' associated clubs in the lower league classifications. . . . During the regular season there are generally 4 coaches with the major league club—the head coach plus 3 others who work with him.

In very brief form, this is the basis of the new system of player development and training which was started by the Chicago National League Ball Club after the close of the 1960 season. The possibilities of developing such a plan had been under consideration for some time before that.

Aimed at Solving Two Major Problems

The new plan was aimed at solving two major problems:

(1) As the Cubs hadn't been doing well in the National League for a number of years, the job of setting up a better method of training and development of some 125 young players called for more and better training than the usual "farm-system" set up.

(2) With the National League slated to expand to 10 clubs in 1962, it seemed vital to provide more and better coaching of young prospects to speed up their training.

There were 8 coaches in the original group which pioneered the plan in the spring training session of 1960. Seven are still with the Cubs organization: Bobby Adams, Rip Collins, Charlie Grimm, Vedie Himsl, Goldie Holt, El Tappe, and Rube Walker.

Even in an age of orbiting space vehicles, computers, television, and countless modern marvels of recent years, anybody who wants to change anything in baseball—even the style of the uniform, much less the application of modern management techniques and tools—is considered to be "unrealistic." Anything new in baseball therefore is generally the object of sarcastic comments from the sideline snipers.

The degree of their good faith and knowledge is indicated by the outworn hilarity about the "eight coaches." Anybody who really knows the situation knows that the total number of coaches on the Cubs' nation-wide staff was increased to 9 in the first year of the plan's operation.

The total was increased to 11 in the 1962 season. The addition of Bob Kennedy last November brought the number of coaches to its present total of 12. Other new additions in the meantime included Buck O'Neil and Fred Martin of the present staff.

Coaching Staff Has Grown—and May Grow Further

So, for the benefit of the comedians, the Cubs have 12 coaches, not 8, or 10. And experience indicates the advisability of adding more coaches when finances permit. In this day of successful emphasis on education and training in many forms of endeavor, who is to say that 12 coaches are enough to work with more than 125 young men?

This includes the young players on our associated clubs in Salt Lake City, Utah; Amarillo, Texas; Wenatchee, Wash.; St. Cloud, Minn.; Pocatello, Idaho; and Middlesboro, Ky.

To date the system has served to speed the development of such widely honored young players as Ken Hubbs, Billy Williams, Ron Santo, Dick Ellsworth, Lou Brock and Dick Bertell. Others developed in the system have helped to make possible the deals that brought us Bob Buhl, Larry Jackson, Lindy McDaniel, Andre Rogers, Jim Schaffer, and Merritt Ranew.

1962 SEASON NOTES

The Cubs set a new all-time club record by clicking off 178 double plays in 1962. . . . Adding for good measure a spectacular triple play initiated by Ken Hubbs (Hubbs-Banks-Rodgers) in the final game of the season vs. the Mets. . . . Opponents' double plays totaled 157.

* * * * *

When Ken Hubbs won the award as the 1962 Rookie of the Year in the National League, it was the second straight year this honor had been won by a Cubs player. . . . Billy Williams was the 1961 winner. . . . Ken also was named Chicago Rookie of the Year by the Chicago baseball writers, an honor also given Billy Williams in 1961, and Ron Santo in 1960.

* * * * *

Of the 14 all-time major league records set by National League players in 1962, 2 were by Ken Hubbs. . . . Most consecutive errorless games by a second baseman (78). . . . And most consecutive errorless chances by a second baseman (418).

* * * * *

The team's stolen base total of 78 in 1962 was higher than in any year since 1929, when the total was 103. . . . The Cubs won 6 double headers in '62, highest mark since winning 6 in 1955. . . . The '62 Cubs lost 3 double headers, and split 9.

Outfielder Billy Williams hit safely in 17 straight games, longest Cub hitting streak since Walt Moryn's 19 in 1957.

* * * * *

On May 29, in a game at Wrigley Field against the Milwaukee Braves, the Cubs hit 6 home runs (Banks 3, Will 1, Williams 1, Altman 1), tying the club mark for most home runs in a single game. . . . This was the 6th time a Cubs team has hit as many as 6 in one game. . . . Ernie's 3 homers that day marked the third time in his career that he has parked 3 long ones in a single game.

* * * * *

Both of the Cubs 1962 grand slam home runs were by rookies. . . . Lou Brock hit one against the Phillies and Nels Mathews blasted his against the Dodgers.

The first live global television of baseball originated in Wrigley Field on July 23, 1962, when a portion of the Cubs-Phillies game was transmitted via Telstar in a historic telecast to 16 European countries.

HIGHLIGHTS OF CUBS HISTORY

In 1962 the Chicago Cubs again set a new record for the most continuous major league seasons: 87. . . . The club is the only one of the 8 original charter members of the National League which has operated every season in the same city ever since the senior circuit was organized in 1876.

* * * * *

The founder of the National League was William A. Hulbert, who was president of the Chicago club. . . . Known in the very early days as the White Stockings, the team was called the Colts in the 1890's, and in 1900 the team was officially named the Cubs. . . . In the League's first year, A. G. Spalding, later to become famous as a sporting goods manufacturer, pitched 47 wins against 14 losses and led Chicago to the championship.
